SUBJECT : Survey on Awareness and Utilization of ILC Diliman Services

DATE : 2 October 2024

As part of the Interactive Learning Center (ILC) under the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs (OVCAA), we are dedicated to enhancing faculty expertise in the use of technologies for teaching and learning. Our mission includes operating the university's online learning management system and promoting the production and use of interactive instructional materials.

To ensure the continuous improvement of our services, we are conducting a survey to gauge your awareness and utilization of the following ILC Diliman services:

1. Iskomunidad: An online academic community for UPD, Iskomunidad is a WIKI platform that facilitates the exchange of ideas and promotes collaborative content creation and peer review.
2. Pages: A free, easy-to-use, do-it-yourself platform for creating and maintaining online sites for UPD units and projects, as well as for profiles of UPD faculty and researchers.
3. Conference: A tool designed to assist in organizing scholarly conferences.
4. Flipbook: This tool simulates the experience of opening and flipping through a physical book or magazine, allowing users to read its contents interactively.
